

SciCafé

ST. PETERSBURG '09

PRESENTED BY THE PIER AQUARIUM
Community Marine Education

Is your cuppa Joe keeping you awake at night?

ACS
Chemistry for Life™

TOPIC: Why Caffeine May Be Good For You

When: 6-7:30pm Tuesday, July 21

Where: Red Mesa Cantina

128 Third St. S

St. Petersburg

Free food and drink specials

SciCafe St. Petersburg '09 is your chance to join the discussion about science! It'll be casual; no need to read up on the topic, no tests. Just don't be late!

Our first conversation, inspired by our collective love of java, will be lead by Mark Eichenbaum, M.D., who has privileges at Edward White Hospital. Daily caffeine keeps us alert. It makes us happy. It "protects" the brain.

At The Pier Aquarium's SciCafe, play beach ball fishy trivia, win prizes, meet new friends and reconnect with others...and maybe you'll learn something interesting (and fun) about science and just how it relates to your everyday life.

For more information:

727-895-7437, ext. 207

www.pieraquarium.org

www.facebook.com/pier.aquarium

www.myspace.com/pieraquarium

www.twitter.com/Pieraquarium

Seeing Science Everywhere? Join the discussion!