COLLABORATIONS:

6 Sustainable Events

www.pieraquarium.org

You're invited to A Sustainable and Green Garden Party to celebrate sustainability!

It's a party to learn how to get green at home, one-on-one with our gardening experts. Bring your questions or just come for the party, shopping for plants, herbal products and things for the home, your garden and you!

Support The Pier Aquarium education programs and purchase $1 tickets of chance for cool "prizes" donated by RoCo Traders and other friends.

When: 1-4pm Saturday, April 17
Where: RoCo Traders, 2115 Central Ave.
St. Petersburg
FREE! Light refreshments

1-4pm Grete Faulhaber

An organic farmer providing produce to Chicago's finest gourmet restaurants, Grete will talk about container gardening, herbs and edible flowers.

Doug Chenneville

Doug of Florida Native Orchids will bring orchids and you'll see why they became a passion dating back to the Victorian ages!

Michael Manlowe

Michael majored in environmental studies and co-owns Twigs and Leaves. He'll talk about Florida natives and frost-tolerant plants

1:30-4pm Robert Segundo

Certified by The Permaculture Institute as an instructor of Permaculture Design, Robert will talk about this conscious design system based on how natural ecosystems work. He is owner/instructor of Permaculture Solutions for a Sustainable Planet.

Many thanks to the Pinellas County Extension Service and the Southwest Florida Water Management District for brochures and educational information.
